Georgia.

Major J. C. Gallagher, who was arrested in Macon on Wednesday night last, by the Sheriff of Washington county, under a warrant from Judge Gibson, of that county returned to Macon Saturday. He says the parties arresting him were his friends, and he was satisfied their action toward him all right, and he was anxious to respond immediately to their demands, and did so. He was kindly treated by the citizens of Washington.

Col. Price's Letter.

In another column, will be found a letter from Col. Price, who is at home, showing that he paired off on the Ku-Klux bill with a Radical. We have also received a private letter from Congressman Speer defending Col. Price for his absence. Mr. Speer, says he believes in giving the devil his due.

Col. Price reflects on our correspondent, as if he had some personal feeling against the Colonel. This, we have no doubt, is undeserved. The comments on the absence of Democratic Congressmen, including Col. P., have been general in the newspapers. The Washington Patriot made the same statements.

But we very frankly confess that Col. Price's explanation does not satisfy the people of Georgia. Granting that he was absent by leave and paired off, there is a general and decided opinion that he and the other Democratic absentees should have been at their posts when a measure like the Ku-Klux bill, so transcendantly involving the welfare of the South was to be fought. Men have something more than votes; they have influence and management, and can work and talk for the right. In the hour of supreme crisis no officer has a shadow of a right to be away from duty.

The Washington Patriot makes the calculations, and shows that if the Democratic absentees had been present, the result could have been changed. This makes the absence worse. But granting this to be untrue, it does not alter the case. Georgia elects national representatives to attend to her interests in the National Councils, and to attend to them constantly and vigilantly, and without regard to private matters.

If private business is to call away our representatives from their posts, when matters are up for action involving the very vitality of the State, then those representatives should resign. We are for making it a test that candidates should pledge their presence at all times at their posts. Congressmen are not sent there to attend to their own personal business at home, but to be in their seats watching and working for the nation and State.

It will be remembered how we suffered during the session of our Legislature by the chronic and universal absenteeism of our Democratic legislators.

It is no excuse to say that the Republicans do the same, but the very reason that Democrats should do differently.

A compact, ever-present, watchful, intelligent, concerted minority can gain many advantages and thwart much that is injurious We feel deeply on this subject. And the people feel deeply. We like Colonel Price, and have stood by him staunchly, and we regret to thus echo the public reproval of his absence. But it is our duty.

Instead of being in Northeast Georgia attending to his law practice, we say unhesitatingly and unconditionally, that in this momentous juncture, with the attempted crucifixion of the South hanging in the resolute grasp of the Radical conspirators, he should be in his seat in Congress, giving the cause the benefit of his great tact and fine powers of parliamentary management.

We regret to say that he is doing a wrong, and a great wrong. And the people are with us in this judgment.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

AMNESTY—
SENATOR OSBORN OF
FLORIDA—THE KU-KLUX BILL—
JEFFERSON AS RIP VAN WINKLE—A FINE
CRITICISM UPON THAT ACTOR—
WASHINGTON LOCAL POLITICS—DEMOCRATIC ABSENTEES—
GOSSIP.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.

WASHINGTON, April 16, 1871.

The Senate had but a short session yesterday. Mr. Robertson attempted to secure action on the amnesty bill, which passed the House last week, but failed because of objections by Conkling and others. It is impossible to foretell the fate of this measure, though the indications are somewhat favorable, just now, for its passage. Even such Radicals as "Beast" Butler and Senator Wilson favor amnesty, as an accompaniment to the Ku-Klux bill.

Senator Osborn, of Florida, who stands charged, on sworn affidavits and authentic documentary evidence, with being implicated in a gigantic job, known as the "Southern Railway Company," made a "personal explanation" on the subject, in which he entered a general denial, and said these accusations grew out of his opposition to the renomination of ex-Congressman Hamilton. This by no means relieves Osborn, however, of the odium fastened upon him. The charges still stand, and the motives of those preferring them do not alter the case in the least.

The House was occupied during the greater portion of Saturday's session with matters of purely local interest. Few anticipated that the Ku Klux bill, which passed the Senate on Friday, would be taken up; but as some twenty or more Democrats were absent, the Radicals though it a good time to put through this iniquitous measure. So the bill was taken up and all save three of the Senate amendments concurred in. The subject was then referred to a Committee of Conference.

The Ku-Klux bill is perhaps the most iniquitous measure yet spawned by this Radical Congress. It has been declared unconstitution by such men as Senators Trumbull and Schurz, the latter showing that it is designed to revolutionize our present form of government. It secures Grant's re-nomination, and is intended to secure his re-election. Whether it will accomplish all its promoters expect of it, remains to be seen. It is at all events very poor consolation to know that such a bill could not have passed but for the absence of Democratic Representatives from their seats. Upon them rests the odium of inflicting upon the country whatever evils this bill may entail.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

Mr. Jefferson, during the past week, has been playing his specialty, Rip Van Winkle, to crowded houses. It is a high compliment to Mr. Jefferson, but a deserved one, that the public should throng to see the constant repetition of a play which has not the slightest intrinsic merit or interest. Yet, notwithstanding the complete and utter trashiness of the drama, the actor shines out resplendent as a wonderful interpreter of human nature—in a play where the composer has not introduced the slightest assistance to him. Mr. Jefferson's acting is marvellous in its simplicity and artless accuracy. He never has the slightest motion intended for stage effect; he never raises his voice above a middle tone. Through the whole play shows the same Rip—carelessly sauntering and drinking in the first act, suddenly changing to well counterfeited decrepitude in the second, but talking the same quaint Dutch speech, and viewing life in the same quiet, philosophic way. In estimating his power of personation, it must be remembered that he has no opportunities for bold strokes—no oratoric rants, no blighting curses, no scathing denunciations. The strongest parts of his declamation are where the text is simply "I am not so sure about that," and "are we so soon forgot when we are gone?"

It is all a piece of sustained effort on his part; never leaving the character, as he never exhibits it in strong lights. I should imagine that he was cruelly hampered by the dialogue itself. It has not a brilliant touch, nor a sentence of pure humor, nor word of pathos. Mr. Jefferson is breathing life into dry husks when he makes us weep over the language which Dion Boucicault, in murdering Irving's hero, has put into his mouth. In the scene of the awaking in the mountains, one of the finest opportunities for natural pathos offered in any play, what is the first speech of Rip? He says he thinks he has the rheumatics! and when, after rising, he takes up his gun and watches in silent dismay the mouldy fragments of wood detaching themselves from it, he opens his lips to a joke of the third order—a low comedy joke—an utterly inane joke—which was intended for the laughter of the galleries when the drama was executed by some low buffoon: he says the gun "has the rheumatics to!"

This would be too flat to laugh at, but Jefferson says it in a way which makes it even effecting and natural, so that we forget its character entirely. It is not, then, what he says, but the man himself that impresses us. Mr. Jefferson is Rip Van Winkle; and if he had to deliver Cato's soliloquy on suicide, in the character, he would breathe into it the personality of the careless "ne'er do well" and it would chime with the part. Mr. Jefferson has made a character far different from that which Boucicault attempted to draw, and it is an evidence of genius of a very high order that he preserves his own idea while delivering the language of the author's portraiture. Nevertheless, the play with its defect must be imperfect; and Mr. Jefferson may well offer two, or even ten thousand dollars for a better one to take its place. This is to be a week of rare attractions to amusement seekers.

Miss Jane Coombs, an actress of high repute, supported by a well selected company, commences an engagement at Wall's Opera House to-morrow evening. She opens as Lady Teazel, in Sheridan's "School for Scandal."

George Francis Train "orates" at Lincoln Hall to-morrow evening, and on Tuesday evening, at the same place, Miss Isabella Glynn, who brings a high reputation from over the the sea, will read "Macbeth."

On Monday evening Mrs. G. C. Germon, a very excellent artiste, takes a farewell benefit at the National. Her charming daughter, Miss Effie Germon, of Wallack's, New York, will also appear.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Frank Mayo commences a short engagement at this theater, appearing in "The Streets of New York."

The Radical menagerie will remain on exhibition at the Capitol a few days longer.

LOCAL POLITICS.

The whole District, or shall I say Territory, is in a ferment over the approaching election (April 20th,) for a Delegate to Congress, and members of the House of Delegates.

The second registration, or revision of the first registration, closed yesterday afternoon, with the following result: Total registered voters 28,520, of whom 17,746 were whites, and 10,774 colored—a white majority of 6,972. The Democrats profess to be satisfied with this exhibit, and claim that it insures the election of Mr. Merrick, their candidate for Delegate to Congress. His opponent, Mr. Chapman, is a Grand Army official, and of course has that organization at his back. The contest is one of the liveliest I have ever seen. The wire-pullers on both sides are exceedingly active, and the people generally have been worked up to fever heat. Mass-meetings and ward meetings are held nightly, and rival brass bands fill the air with sounds of blatant trumpets and rolling drums.

The Radicals are making every effort to secure the vote of the government clerks. Circulars have been distributed in the Departments, telling employés that there is nothing to prevent their voting here, and then voting in the State in which they claim residences, a few months later. If any are deluded into pursuing this course they will certainly have cause to regret it. The enforcement laws are sauce for the Radical goose as well as the Democratic gander.

As usual, both parties boast of their success as assured. Three days later will tell the story.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUSING.

The Democratic Congressmen caucused on Friday evening, and caused their absent colleagues soundly. Nor did they indulge in words only. It is understood that they took a decisive stand on the question of absenteeism, and will suggest to delinquents that if they cannot attend to the duties delegated to them, they had better tender their resignations.

The committee appointed to prepare an address to the country, was not ready to report, but will do so at another caucus to be held to-morrow evening.

The best form of an address would be one that would compel every Democratic member of Congress to address himself to public business during the sessions of Congress.

THE SUNDAY PAPERS,

four in number, appeared as usual this morning, with varied tables of contents. The Herald, an offshoot of the old National Intelligencer establishment (having Weekly National Intelligencer as a sub title) appears in new type and other improvements. In point of circulation and news, local and general, it leads all its contemporaries. It is the only "true blue" Democratic paper published at the Capital.

SPRING TIME.

Although Lent is over, and spring has come, with the fresh green foliage and songs of birds, Washington has not yet dropped into its pre-Lenten gayety. There are, to be sure, no end of dinner parties, and which the Joint High Commission are the central figures, but of dancing there has been but little. Private theatricals bid fair to be the rage for a time; but the birds of passage are already getting ready their wardrobes and their "Saratoga" for their usual summer flights.

CONGRESS

will adjourn—no! on second thought, I will say nothing more about it, having deceived myself and my readers too often with regard to this momentous question. C. A. P.

A Letter from Col. Wm. P. Price.

HE EXPLAINS HIS ABSENCE FROM CONGRESS AT THIS IMPORTANT TIME.

DALTONEGA, GA., April 18, 1871.

Editor Constitution: I am again compelled to call your attention to another wilful misrepresentation of your Washington correspondent in relation to myself. In his letter, published in THE CONSTITUTION of the 13th instant, appears the following: "I regret to find Hon. W. P. Price reported as one of two Democratic members absent without having paired. The Patriot figures out that the presence of Mr. Price and Mr. Townsend, of New York, would have shorn the bill of its most objectionable feature. It is really disheartening to see the game thrown into the hands of our opponents through dereliction of duty on the part of our so-called representatives."

Now, if your correspondent desired to write the truth concerning myself, he had but to read the Globe, of the 7th instant, which contains the vote on the Ku-Klux bill. I send you the extract, which is as follows:

Mr. Young—My colleague, Mr. Price, who is absent and paired with some gentleman on the other side, would, if he were here, vote against the bill.

Mr. Averill—My colleague, Mr. Dunnell, is paired with the gentleman from Georgia, Mr. Price. My colleague, if present would vote "aye."

I regret that I should be so frequently singled out by your correspondent for unjust criticism. It may be that I have overlooked his claims in some way or other. Indeed, I have taken no pains to put myself under any obligations, whatever, to newspaper correspondents whilst at the Capital.

I was paired off with Mr. Dunnell, of Minnesota, a Radical, who remained in Washington, but did not vote on any of the amendments, or the bill itself as the Globe of the 7th inst. shows. I did not leave Washington until this arrangement was made. A reference to the yeas and nays will show that Mr. Dunnell, did not vote on any of the propositions. As an accommodation to me he agreed to pair off on the bill and all of its amendments. Had I been present I should have voted against the bill in all its features. Mr. Dunnell would have voted for the bill and the amendments proposed by the Republicans.

In your editorial column of the same date is the following, taken from the Louisville Ledger:

"On the most important vote—the Ku-Klux Bill—Blair, of Missouri; Hamilton, of Pennsylvania; Hamilton, of Maryland; Price, of Georgia; Rodd, of Kentucky, and Tuthill, of New York, were absent. Mr. Read was paired with Mr. Darrall, of Louisiana, no. Sypher, as was erroneously stated. Price and Tuthill were not paired on the habeas corpus amendment, and if present, would have made the vote a tie. Blair's vote added would have defeated the power given the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus; and had all the absentees been present, the defeat of the bill was certainly positive."

Blair, of Missouri, is a Republican; Tuthill was paired off with T. S. Speer, of Georgia; Hamilton, of Maryland, was paired with Peters, of Maine; Haldeman, of Pennsylvania, (not Hamilton,) was paired off with Washington Townsend, of Pennsylvania. On every vote taken, there was a larger number of absent Republicans than Democrats. Every absent Democrat was paired off, except Mr. D. Townsend, of New York. It was not within the power of the Democratic party in Congress to have defeated the bill, or any amendment that did pass. The bill passed by a vote of 128 to 91.

The Democratic members of Congress are as vigilant and watchful as it is possible for them to be—certainly much more so than responsible newspaper correspondents are expected to be. I trust that I shall not be wanting in attention to the interests of my constituents or party.

In obtaining a short leave of absence, I only availed myself of a privilege which nearly every Congressman has availed himself of since my admission, and having paired off with a Radical and a Republican, who remained in Washington, and who did not vote on any proposition pending the passage of the bill, I am confident that no injury has been sustained by my act.

You will oblige me by publishing the foregoing. Very respectfully, yours, etc.

W. P. PRICE.

THE CAROLINA FERTILIZER!

IS MADE FROM THE

PHOSPHATES OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

AND is pronounced by various Chemists, one of the best MANURES known. It was extensively used in most of the Cotton-growing States last season, and in a great number of trials, in comparison with other leading Fertilizers, proved superior to every other.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA PHOSPHATES

Are remains of extinct land and sea animals, and possess qualities of the greatest value to the Agriculturist. Pamphlets containing description of the

REMARKABLE DEPOSIT,

With engravings of Fossils found in it, and testimonials proving the superiority of the Fertilizer, will be forwarded on application.

Extract from article in Rural Carolinian, February number, 1871, giving details of experiments with fifteen different Fertilizers:

"From the above experiments and their results, I almost reach some conclusions which may prove of interest to others.

"First—That Peruvian Guano, which has been considered the standard for comparison for all commercial Fertilizers, fails to produce as much cotton as a Fertilizer claiming to contain no ammonia at all.

"Second—That neither the Peruvian nor the unmixed Super-Phosphates produces so well as a combination of the two, or as a commercial Fertilizer containing both super-phosphate and ammonia, like the Carolina Fertilizer, which has produced better results for me than any other commercial Fertilizer.

Southern Claims.

The Southern Claims Commissioners have one hundred and twenty-two cases on the docket, ranging in amounts from three hundred dollars to eighty-four thousand dollars, and it is believed the number of cases will number several thousands.

Plain Talk.

General Blair said this, the other day, to the face of the self-constituted Senator from Mississippi: "The presence of that Senator (Ames) on this floor is an unmitigated outrage upon the people of Mississippi and an unparalleled outrage upon this country, a most bitter sarcasm upon Republican government. Yet he (Mr. B.) had as much respect for that Senator, as he had for any of those who voted to admit him."

Atlanta Medical and Surgical Journal, Edited by W. F. & J. G. Westmoreland, M. D.

The April number of this very excellent doctors' magazine is on our table. Its table of contents is full, varied and attractive. It is a large periodical of some sixty-two pages. It contains valuable contributions and editorials upon important medical subjects.

The editors make a sound, earnest appeal to the profession, promising a first-class journal, and a concentration within its pages of the first medical talent of the country.

We wish this enterprise great success.

Grant on the Amnesty Question.

The President is reported to be in favor of amnesty, but doubts the expediency of giving it at this time. The Tribune special says, just after the New Hampshire election a high Government official called upon the President to urge him to recommend in his message about Ku-Klux, that the bill to provide for suppressing disorder in the South be accompanied by general amnesty. The President gave the gentleman to understand that, personally, he thought a generous policy the best one, but he seriously doubted if the people were ready for it.

This simply means that Grant is doubtful whether it will help the prospects of the Radical party. While any political capital is to be made out of Ku-Kluxing the South, amnesty must hold over.

Speer as Our Representative.

The Washington Patriot says: Mullins, of Tennessee, has returned—not in the flesh, but in the spirit. The mantle of the Tennessean has fallen upon Mr. Speer, a Radical Representative from one of the Georgia districts, who promises to give the Forty-second Congress as much to laugh at as Mullins gave to the members of the Fortieth Congress. Tall, angular, and awkward, his every movement excites a smile, and whenever he vociferates "Mr. Speaker," no one in the House can hardly help being in a good humor. It was as good as the broadest farce to see the Hon. Speer draw his tall form up to its full height this afternoon and drawl out, "Mr. Speaker, would a motion to adjourn be in order just about this time?" The House was convulsed with laughter, and amid the merriment an adjournment was carried half an hour earlier than usual. So much for Speer.

Absent Democratic Congressmen.

We add a word to our comments in our Evening Edition, upon Col. Price's absence from his post at this juncture.

The practice of pairing off, will only do where absence is inevitable, as for sickness. But where a man does it to justify a business absence, it is wrong. It does not take the chances that a minority should take on a vital, fiercely-contested issue. The man on the other side may be away when the vote comes—he may be sick, or out taking a drink.

It is a public representative's duty to be at his post, using his presence to give his side success. His influence may keep undecided men from voting. There is a prejudice against sending lawyers to the Legislature or Congress. That prejudice will not diminish if our representatives have to leave their public duty, in critical junctures, to attend to their clients at home, even though the deficient mechanism of pairing off, be invoked to neutralize their absence.

Poor Carolina.

When the Radicals took charge of South Carolina, the State's bonded debt was five millions. Now it is sixteen millions. Here is an interesting table:

Average taxes for ten years before 1860	$ 431,000
The year 1860 being only	392,000
The taxes for 1868 were	1,858,00
Taxable value of State property in 1860	490,000,000
Taxable value in 1871	184,000,000

In 1860, the taxes were not quite $400,000, on a taxable basis of about $500,000,000, whereas the taxes of 1868 amount to $1,958,000, on a basis of only $184,000,000, so that while the property of the State was reduced to one-third its former value, the taxes are increased nearly five hundred per cent.

1858 Expenses of the Legislature	$ 51,000
1868 Expenses of the Legislature	270,000
1858 Executive expenses	5,000
1868 Executive expenses	40,000
1858 Civil expenses	97,000
1868 Civil expenses	218,000

And the Legislative appropriations for the four months' session, which closed in March, amount to $525,000. Each item of expense is enormously increased, notwithstanding the great decrease of the property on which it is levied; and to make this still more oppressive, all this property is over-valued enormously, and often far over double what the property would sell for.

☞ Mdme. Letitia Bonaparte-Wyse died at Rome, on the 15th ult. She was a daughter of Lucien Bonaparte, and married Sir Thomas Wyse, the British Embassador to Greece.

The Leg-Drama.

The wonderful success of the Leg-Drama in the country, has started any amount of newspaper deprecation of this sort of public amusement, and a very sturdy disapproval and abuse of leg-performers.

We would respectfully call the attention of these moral critics to the fact that these leg-folks simply give what the people patronize. If leg-drama did not pay best, it would be discarded. The actor and actress go in to make money. They don't choose the style of their amusements from their own standard of taste, but to suit the popular taste, and hence all this hearty scoring of the leg-people is misdirected, utterly. It should be given to the public who demand the leg-drams, and who won't pay for a higher order of performance.

The evil lies not in the performer, but in the public. The remedy is to correct the taste of the public, and educate it to a paying appreciation of higher things. The performer must make bread. If high tragedy wont bring bread from the public and legdidoes will, why the former must be laid on the shelf, and the latter furnished, just exactly in quantity and style to suit purchasers. This is the simple philosophy of this whole matter. And wasting shot on the actor, when the people are the culprits, is absurd and culpable.

Let us bear, therefore, no more blazing at a class of people who simply yield to the exactions of their patrons in the line of their business. It stands to reason that the theatrical profession should prefer the better and more creditable performance. But if the people won't have it, then the lower kind of exhibition must be given. The actor must live. You can't abolish him. The true course is to make the people relish the good, and then the actor will furnish it, and not until then.

☞ General Gordon delivered a lecture in Eufaula, on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the "Lee Memorial Association" of that city. The Times makes the following mention of his reception:

General G. was received at the depot by the Mayor and Council, unofficially, and a vast crowd of citizens, all anxious to testify their appreciation of his distinguished gallantry. The grounds around the depot were crowded with carriages and vehicles of every description, and the steps, platforms and crossings literally packed with ladies and gentlemen anxious to see the form and hear every word that fell from the lips of the man who had won such imperishable fame upon an hundred battle-fields. Cleburn Cornet Band, in full feather, lent inspiration to the occasion by its fine music and drowned the noise of the approaching engine with its notes of welcome.

The General being introduced by his Honor, Mayor Roberts, Gen. Alpheus Baker, in behalf of our people, received him with a few most beautiful and appropriate remarks, in which he paid tribute to the heroic character of the living, standing in our presence, and of the dead, whose noble deeds and nobler character furnished the theme of the expected lecture. Evidently surprised at the reception, the General briefly and happily replied, transferring whatever reputation he may have made to the soldiers who bore the knapsacks and pulled the triggers. After this, the crowd adjourned to the hotel, where many sought an introduction and many old soldiers renewed their acquaintance, which the crowd and confusion at the depot prevented.

The True Policy of the Conservatives.

Commenting upon Senator Morton's recent speech, the Norfolk Journal says:

"Let the Conservatives of the South meet these issues of Mr. Morton frankly and promptly. Let us declare to the country that our policy is peace, that our purpose is to prevent excesses, not to perpetuate them; and we shall elect the next President by a majority that will drive Radicalism from the field forever.

"The policy of that party is plain. Let us take warning now. They are endeavoring to drive us back upon dead issues. Let us force them to fight on their own reckless violations of liberty and law."

Important Letter Relative to Late Stamp Duties.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE, } COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, 4TH DISTRICT, GA., } ATLANTA, April 3, 1871.

W. R. Hanleiter, Esq., Atlanta, Ga.—SIR: At your request, I have the honor to state, that any written instrument subject to stamp duty, and not stamped at the time of making or issuing the same, may be stamped by the proper collector of internal revenue upon payment to him of the price of the proper stamp required by law, and of a penalty of double the amount of tax remaining unpaid, but in no case less than five dollars; together with interest at six per cent. where the stamp duty exceeds fifty dollars.

If such non-payment at the time of making or issuing any instrument subject to stamp duty be shown to the satisfaction of such collector within twelve months after August 1, 1871, or within twelve months after such making or issuing to have been by reason of accident, mistake, inadvertence, or urgent necessity, and without any wilful design to defraud the United States, or to evade or delay the payment of such stamp duty, it shall be lawful for such collector to remit the penalty aforesaid, and stamp such instrument.

If such non-payment at the time of making or issuing any instrument subject to stamp duty occurred at a time when, and at a place where, no collection district was established, (i. e. in Georgia prior to May 30, 1865,) any one may legally stamp such instrument without the intervention of any officer whatever, if done prior to January 1, 1872, and such stamping shall be as valid as if stamped at the time of making or issuing the same, or as if stamped by the collector in the manner hereinbefore described. Such are the provisions of the Act of Congress of July 14, 1870.

Very respectfull,

JAMES ATKINS, Collector.

A Southern Nobleman.

THE TRIBUTE OF AN ABLE WESTERN JOURNALIST TO ALEXANDER STEPHENS.

From the Richmond Dispatch.]

Charles Remelin writes to the Cincinnati Commercial, that Mr. Stephens regards slavery as legally abolished through the action taken by the States at the bidding of Johnson.

We doubt that Mr. Stephens has ever made such an admission; but do not doubt that he and nearly all other Southerners are ready to acknowledge that slavery is at an end; that the Constitution has been so altered as to prohibit it; and that it would be worse than folly in the South to attempt to make an issue in the Presidential canvass, upon the new amendments. Mr. Remelin also says of Mr. Stephens:

A VISIT TO A NOBLEMAN.

The word nobleman may sound strange in America, and yet I cannot take it back. This country has had noblemen, and it has them now—not indeed in the sense in which some fools talked about Southern white men, but in the literary sense of the word.

About ninety-five miles East of Atlanta lies Crawfordsville, on the Georgia Railroad; it is a county seat, but worthy of our notice only for being the home of Alexander H. Stephens, late Vice President of the Southern Confederacy. His house is called "Liberty Hall," and I found it well named. In it reigns a hospitality so free and yet so dignified as to throw an inexpressible charm over the visitor. But one other gentleman ever received the writer hereof as cheeringly and unreservedly, and he was Deak, the wise man of Hungary. The great Hungarian and the great American have many resemblances. Both are bachelors, and are about the same age, between sixty and sixty-five; both love their Unions, and each subject to the rights of the States. Both seek but one public employment—that of representing in Parliament their neighbors, honestly; and both have such means as to make them, with their frugal wants, independent of the favors of power. Both differed from impetuous leaders in the incipient steps of resistance to undue dominion, and both the same double star to guide them in the dark hours that followed—to wit: adherence to fundamental federal law and regard for Union.

Of course there are less dissimilarities, of which the most prominent is that arbitrary authority was wise enough in Hungary to listen to Deak, a wisdom which party spirit forbids in America.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The House nonconcurred in the conference on the Ku-Klux Bill. A new conference was appointed.

The Senate adopted the new conference report on the Deficiency Appropriation Bill.

Both Houses are in session to-night, with the understanding that they adjourn finally.

There is so much confusion, it is impossible to obtain the exact features of either the Ku-Klux or the Deficiency bills.

Grant goes to St. Louis for a week.

The new Deficiency Appropriation Bill, before the conference, reduces the appropriation to the Sisters of Mercy, of Chaleston, to $12,000, and strikes out the clause appointing an attorney to represent the Government before the Southern Claims Commission; and strikes out the clause increasing compensations for census marshal.

Sherman's amendment is the chief point of contention between the two Houses.

On the Ku-Klux bill, thirty Republicans voted with the Democrats, defeating it. There were fifty absentees.

The House adopted the conference report on the Deficiency Apropriation Bill.

The session now only hangs on the Ku-Klux Bill.

It is understood that the Senate will recede from Sherman's amendment.

The confirmations are Brown, of Arkansas, Governor of Idaho; Garland, Attorney for Western Texas; Candri, Postmaster at Aiken, S. C.; Frazier, Postmaster at Charlotte, N. C.; Markham, Postmaster at Madison, Ga.; Bond, Postmaster at Macon, Ga.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Specie shipments to-day is over one million and a half dollars.

The Telegram gives currency to a rumor of the failure of Von Saur & Co., on contracts for two millions dollars in gold.

Chevalier Vangabe and Miss Geralt were married this afternoon by the Chaplain of the Russian and Greek Legations, at the Greek Chapel.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, April 19.—The News of today, prints an extended report of an interview with Governor Scott, who gave his views very fully on the subject of the State finances and taxation, which have lately caused wide-spread agitation among the tax payers of South Carolina. The Governor declared that the State debt has been grossly exaggerated; that the increase of bonded debt represents mainly the unfounded liabilities contracted by previous administrations; that their endorsement by the State are amply protected by the actual assets of the roads, and that the entire bonded debt of South Carolina, is less than eight millions of dollars, with about one million floating debt, which last will be paid immediately with funds now in the treasury and with the incoming taxes.

He said the object of changing the time of the collections of the taxes was to insure the collection from the poor classes, and would add two hundred thousand dollors to the State revenue. He also stated that an extension of the time would be granted, if required. The Governor added that the people are now paying the taxes with unanimity and promptness that surprised him, and which deserved the highest praise, which illustrated their law abiding character. In alluding to the Tax-payers' Convention, called for next month by the Charleston Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade, he said the convention would result in showing the people that the State's finances are in a healthy condition and the debt as he had represented. He hoped, also, that it would create a better feeling and reestablish confidence, by preparing the way to give a fair share in the offices of the State to men of ability and experience.

He pronounces in favor of a minority representation as the readiest cure for existing greivances of the whites. He thinks the present moderate tone of the State press tends to obliterate the fears and prejudices of the Republicans, and considers that a large majority of the whites in the State, by accepting the Constitutional Amendment, are practically Republicans in all but the name. He expressed the belief hat the aims of the Ku-Klux are political but thinks the operations of that organization are the surest means of strengthening and consolidating the Republican party.

The Governor said in conclusion, that his future policy would be to disregard party lines in making appointments, and be guided chiefly by considerations of personal fitness.

MASSACHUSEITS.

BOSTON, April 19.—Wm. H. Emerson, piano manufacturer, is dead.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, April 19.—Dispatches from Versailles give some particulars regarding the fight of yesterday at Neuilly. The incessant fighting around Neuilly, which lasted throughout Sunday, Sunday night and all day Monday, were followed by an ominous calm on Monday night, which was broke shortly after daylight Tuesday morning by the insurgents. The conflict raged all day with but little advantage being gained by either side, every inch of ground being obstinately contested, and both fighting with the most determined vigor. Houses were on fire in various portions of the town. The inhabitants had all sought shelter in cellars, where many of them, including women and children, were burned to death. Towards night the Nationals, from some unknown cause, became panic stricker, and fled precipitately towards Paris, the dead and wounded lying in the road. The government forces did not follow. The wildest excitement prevails in Paris, and the inhabitants are leaving by thousands. All of the Churches are closed. Almost every Church in the city has been pillaged. The road to St. Denis is choked with fugitives from Paris. Provisions more plentiful; the Northern and Eastern railroads still bringing in supplies.

BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, April 19.—It is ascertained that the Peace Conference concedes nothing to France.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The House has taken a recess to wait the action of the Senate on the Ku-Klux bill.

It seems certain that Congress will adjourn to-night.

Both Houses have taken a recess to wait for the Conference report on the Ku-Klux bill.

After several recesses they adjourned to half-past ten to-morrow.

The Conference Committee on Deficency of Appropriations, struck out the clause repealing Drake's provision regarding Presidential pardons.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Tribune's cable, dated Paris, April 19, says the cannonade has slackened, owing to the weather. The fighting was not serious enough to continue during the rain, which has been incessant during the past few days. There has been much moving of troops, with small results on either side. The market is badly supplied. Bullock meat brings a shilling per pound before killed.

The Commune journals recommend that the Imperial mummy be removed from the Invallides.

Rochefort says on trustworthy information, semi-official negotiations are proceeding in the Commune and arrangements are being made to provision Paris by the North and East railway.

Dispatches dated Tuesday, P.M., say the insurgents met with a severe defeat yesterday. Large defensive works have been completed at Aneerers within the last few days. Communal Generals believed their position safe from attack beyond the bridge over the Seine.

A strong barricade has been erected fifteen yards from the railway stations, armed with two mitrailleuses. Other earth-works were thrown up last night, to cover the attack from the Charbourg road. The Colboes road was protected by a barricade of paving stones, covered with earth two yards thick, and eight hundred yards long, and connected by principal insurgent posts.

Seven armor-plated locomotives, armed with American mitrailleuses, were ready along the railwry to defend the National Guards.

FRANCE.

PARIS, April 19.—The programme, which was suggested would meet with the general approval of the people of Paris, provides for the maintenance of the Republic, granting communal rights to Paris and other cities, and the dissolution of the Assembly and election of a National Communal Representative Assembly instead of amnesty for all offenses against the government and signing of the armistice.

The insurgants admit are pulse at Neuilly, but claim to be victorious at Issy and Clarmart.

General Akelow succeeds General Dombrowski's brother, who was disabled at Asneerers.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, April 19.—A dispatch from Asneerers via Versailles, says the weather is rainy, and operations to-day are next to impossible, but adds that the insurgens are falling so pieces.

SALARIES OF BAPTIST MINISTERS.—The Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D., of Raleigh, N. C., writes: "I find that the fifteen largest salaries paid by the Baptist Churches in towns in North Carolina, aggregate $10,950, and average $730 each; the same number of salaries in South Carolina aggregate $17,500, and average $1,166 each; the same number in Virginia aggregate $25,158, and average $1,676; the same number in Kentucky aggregate $28,400, and average $1,893; while in Georgia the aggate for the same number is $30,000, and the average for each $2,000. It thus appears that, in the towns at least, Georgia pays the largest salaries, and North Carolina far the smallest.

☞ The Courier-Journal tells the story that in Bullitt county, Kentucky, recently, while a farmer was cutting down a large poplar tree, an old-fashioned glass quart bottle was found firmly imbedded in the center of the tree, which bottle contained "corn juice." The Journal made an effort to trace the bottle back to the possession of Daniel Boon, but before the final trial test of the spirits could be made, the revenue officers seized the bottle and contents and had it condemned as illicit spirits. It is even suggested that the farmer will be prosecuted for carrying on an illicit distillery.

Grand Jury Presentments

STATE OF GEORGIA, CAMPBELL COUNTY.

We, the Grand Jurors, selected, chosen and sworn for the April Term, 1871, of the Superior Court of said county, do make the following presentments:

We have, through our Finance Committee, examined the books of the County Treasurer and Tax Collector, and find that William Austin, the former County Treasurer, falls short $200.10, also the Tax Collector, J. H. Winn, in default $296.57, both of which we recommend the Ordinary to require to come forward and make satisfactory payment. We find $1,600.83 extra of all outstanding claims against the county, together with $65.39 due the county on estrays.

We recommend the Ordinary to pay to the proper authorities of Douglas county, her pro rata share of the overplus or surplus of all former tax that is now in the Treasury of the county.

We recommend, also, a special tax for paying the jurors and paupers, of Campbell county, for the year of 1871.

We find the roads and bridges of the county generally, in the best of order.

We have, also, examined the books of the Ordinary and Clerk of the Superior Court, and find them kept in a neat and business like style.

The building rented for the Court-house, while it is not as convenient and commodious as might be desired, answers the purposes very well. The Ordinary has let out the contract for building a new Court-house, to be completed by the next term of the Superior Court, the plan of which we approve.

No arrangements have yet been made for the erection of a new jail. We do not recommend the erection of one immediately, as we have a good and safe jail at Campbellton, and there is a good calaboose in Fairburn, which can be used, if necessary.

We also recommend the Ordinary to pay such amount for the support of the paupers of Campbell county, as he may think absolutely necessary to each case.

The newspaper enterprise of Fairburn, we heartily approve, and wish it much success.

We earnestly solicit our Representative, Dr. John Goodman, to use all the means in his power, during the next session of the Legislature, in changing the weeks of holding the Superior Court of Campbell county, from the second week in April and October, to the second week in February and August.

We further recommend a hasty and final payment of the debt for the Court-house, which is now being built, believing that delay and interest on paying debts are the great cankers that prey so destructively on the public, as well as the private property of the people. Therefore, we suggest the policy of direct taxation to the amount of two-thirds of the debt for 1871, and the remaining one-third the year 1872.

We would also solicit our Representative to aid and assist, with all his abilities, the repeal of an Act entitled an Act organizing the Southern District Court, believing it to be a nuisance instead of a benefit. Nor can we close these, our General Presentments, without expressing our unqualified condemnation of the reckless and prodigate expenditure of the people's money, by the Chief Executive of the State of Georgia and call upon all good and patriotic citizens, who have love for Georgia, and desir her prosperity, to join us in denouncing such glowing extravagance that is witnessed almost daily, and so oppressively felt by the citizens of their once proud and noble, but now depressed and almost bankrupt State.

In taking leave of his Honor, Judge Wright, we tender him our thanks for his impartial administration of the laws.

To the Solicitor General we tender our thanks for courtesies extended to this body.

We request THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION and Fairburn papers to publish these, our General Presentments.

COUNTERFEITER.

STOP HIM!

HE is about five feet eight inches high, has black hair, and side whiskers, rather round built, rather down look, think his eyes are blue, registers as FRANK BULLARD, from Louisville, Ky.

He has considerable counterfeit money about him, and pretends to give instructions in detecting counterfeits, but his conduct created some suspicion here, and as he slipped off without settling his bill, I am sure that he is a scoundrel, and would put off his counterfeits wherever he can.

The firm of Parsons, Born & Co. has been dissolved by mutual consent. J. M. Born, Jr. & Co. will continue the business at the old stand.

The proprietor of the McDowell House, at Newnan, cautions the public against a counterfeiter. Read the notice.

A watchman is wanted at a saw-mill, fifteen miles from Cartersville, at a salary of $30 per month, with a house and fire-wood, free of rent and cost.

Now the announcement of the action of Council subscribing $250,000 to the Atlanta and Savannah Railroad, and authorizing the holding of an election to take the sense of the people on the subject.

The presentments of the Grand Jury for the April term of Campbell Superior Court will be found in our advertising columns.

Bonds bond at the sale of the Windsor street property today.

Send in your orders for job work to THE CONSTITUTION Job Office.

A MATCH RACE will come off at Oglethorpe Park on next Saturday, best two in three mile heats.

PLATT MADISON has returned from his Texas trip.

HON. A. D. NUNNALLY, of Griffin, was in the city yesterday.

THE work of widening Pryor street from Line to Houston streets, has been commenced.

WALL STREET has been leveled and improved.

ANOTHER false alarm of fire was sounded yesterday evening. The only way to stop this kind of thing is by getting a fire alarm telegraph.

A COLORED man fell off from the top of the new Catholic Church and received such injuries by the fall, that his life is despaired of.

LAWYERS, clients, and witnesses, would do well to be on hand at the Fulton Superior Court today. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

THE Stone Mountain Granite Company is shipping to St. Louis some fine granite blocks for a monument there.

E. R. SASSEEN, the well-known hotel man, will open the "Sasseen House," formerly the "Cannon House," in a few days.

A NUMBER of delegates to the Baptist Convention arrived last night, and will leave for Cartersville this morning.

THE concert announced to come off for the benefit of Wesley Chapel, on the 25th instant, has been postponed until the night of the 28th inst.

WE are indebted to MRS. S. Lunguest of Milner, for some of the largest and finest strawberries ever seen in this market. They were grown in the open air. We don't think that they can be beat.

THE "chicken peck" drew a large crowd yesterday. Eight fights on the main were fought, resulting in Alabama winning four and Georgia four. This leaves Alabama five out of the nine fought.

MRS. YOUNG, on Houston street, near the corner of Houston and Pryor streets, is prepared to accommodate a few single men with board, either with or without lodging. Terms moderate.

FIRE COMPANY NO. 4.—A meeting of the members of R. E. Lee Fire Company No. 4, will be held at M. T. Castleberry's Store, on Peters street, to-night at 7½ o'clock.

R. H. JOHNSTON, of Griffin, accompanied by a number of friends, went down the Georgia Road yesterday, to Athens. To night he is to be united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Susie Hill, of that place. Joy, peace and happiness attend them.

H. I. KIMBALL, President of the Cherokee Railroad Company, has appointed D. W. K. Peacock General Agent of the Company, with headquarters at Cartersville. He also performs the duties of a Superintendent until one is appointed. The selection is an admirable one.

THE Rome Historical and Library Association have a grand excursion down the Coosa River on the 18th inst. Rev. J. Watkins Hicks lectures on the great Virginian. A magnificent supper will be served up at night. Three times three for the R. H & L. A.

JUDGE HOPKINS is still dispatching business in Fulton Superior Court. The jury yesterday rendered a verdict for the defendants in the case of A. G. Chisolm vs. J. H. Lovejoy & Co. The appeal, equity and motion dockets, are nearly through with. The criminal docket will be taken up next week.

THE criticism of the Governor's kitchen organ of one of the lady performers, at the concert given at the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night, is not only unjust to the lady, but unwarranted by the facts. Charity will attribute the ungenerous effusion more to a distempered imagination and the deteriorating influence of cheap benzine, than a native want of gallantry and fairness.

HON. D. F. HAMMOND, Mayor, has tried over five hundred cases in the Police Court since his incumbency. He requires the police to be vigilant and efficient in the discharge of their duties, and will punish them as severely for exceeding their duty, as for failing to do it. The police of Atlanta have proved themselves to be efficient men, and true conservators of the peace. In no single instance have they exceeded their duty, and we have yet to learn of a failure. This speaks well for them.

LIGHT.—Mr. Plumer, of the firm of Richards & Plumer, had on exhibition last night, at the corner of Pryor and Wall streets, in the Kimball House building, a magnificent light. It was a fifteen light of the Columbia (S. C.) Portable Gas Generator. The light was soft and brilliant. The proprietors claim that it is the simplest, cheapest, safest, most economical and durable gas generator ever offered to the public. So far as we have been enabled to judge, we are inclined to believe that the claim is well founded. We urge our citizens to call and see it for themselves. "Let us have light!"

SOUTHERN BOYS AND GIRLS who do not take Burke's Magazine for Boys and Girls, miss a great treat. It is equal in every respect to the Northern magazines, and far superior to any of them in the quality of its reading matter. The April number is full of good things, and shows a steady improvement. We cannot too highly commend this magazine to our readers. Every boy and girl in the South ought to take it and read it. The terms are $2 a year, or three copies for $5. The publishers will send specimen numbers free on application. Address J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.

THE ladies of Wesley Chapel will furnish a collation of Strawberries, Ice Cream, etc., on Friday evening, at The H. I. Kimball House, on Decatur street. Admission 25 cents.

The object is the purchase of carpetting, furniture, etc. for the new church, hoping to occupy it by the first of July.

The Table and Decoration Committees are requested to meet at 9 o'clock, A. M., Friday, April 21st. All interested are cordially invited to meet with them, and co-operate in making the entertainment worthy of the cause. Ladies furnishing custard are requested to send it in at the hour specified.

THE GREAT SALE TO-DAY.—Of course everybody knows we refer to the forty lots of the Windsor Smith property, on Whitehall, Hood and Windsor streets, to be sold by Col. G. W. Adair this afternoon at 3 o'clock. An immense crowd is expected to be present, on account of the eligibility and choice locality of the lots. They are to be sold without the shadow of a reservation. They must be sold. From the number of parties who have visited the grounds, we judge the sale will be an interesting one. The elegance of the neighborhood attracts. Secure a home place.

ORPHANS' HOME DEDICATION, ETC.—The Orphans' Home, near Norcross, will be dedicated on Wednesday, the 26th instant, at 11 o'clock A. M. An address will be delivered by Colonel H. P. Bell, of Cumming, Ga. Arrangements are made for the accommodation of all who may attend.

The train will leave Atlanta for Norcross at 7½ o'clock A. M. Those wishing to be present on this interesting occasion, will do well to be promptly at the Air-Line Depot by the hour specified.

It is expected that the fare will be half price to those going up on this special occasion.

JESSE BOARD,
Agent Orphans' Home.

ATLANTA, April 19, 1871.

REV. E. W. WARREN.—We were highly pleased yesterday to grasp by the hand our old friend and christian brother, Rev. E. W. Warren, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. B. Johnson, Rector of Christ Church, in Macon, in a letter to the Telegraph and Messenger, pays the following tribute to his christian character and usefulness:

"Permit me to express my sincere and heart-felt regret at the contemplated departure from our community of that excellent christian gentleman, the Rev. E. W. Warren.

We belong, it is true, to distinct christian organizations; but the courtesies and charities of religion antedate its differences; and upon this "celestial plane" of christian fellowship, it has more than once been my privilege to meet this faithful man and minister, and to join in that apostolic prayer, "Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity."

We have been fellow-laborers, too, in the same general field of duty among the poor and the noble working classes of our community, and I speak the convictions of a personal experience, when I testify that it will be indeed difficult to repair the loss of this christian brother's influence in this important field. His memory will abide in many hearts beyond the fold he loved and served so well, and I humbly pray that the Gracious master of us all, may grant him the light and strength of His Divine presence even unto the end of his earthly labors."

☞ Sold by every Druggist in Charlotte, N. C., and by Druggists generally. ☜

We were kindly furnished the following extract from a letter to Dr. F. Scarr, Druggist, of this city:

STANLEY COUNTY, N. C.

Dr. F. Scarr—DEAR SIR: When in your town I asked you for something for my wife. You sold me a bottle of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, or Woman's Best Friend. Please put me up one dozen bottles of the same, as the one I got from you has got my wife finely well. You would not know her now; she has got stout and healthy and as red as a rose. As others are needing it please send me one dozen bottles. ***

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 23, 1871.

Dr. J. H. Bradfield—DEAR SIR: We cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy and popularity of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. Among a number of cases it has benefitted in this community, we mention that of a married lady. She was a sufferer from womb disease; had excessive and disagreeable flow of whites; was weak and languid. She was induced to try the Regulator, and after taking the second bottle she is sound and well. Her health and elasticity of spirits have returned, and she has gained many pounds in weight; feels altogether like a new being. Yours very respectfully,

WHAT IS IT?—Many, many people suffer from they know not what. They are not sick—they are not well. There is no name for it. It is simply weakness—a breaking down of the vital forces. Whatever its causes, (and they are innumerable), its symptoms are in the main the same. Among the most prominent are extreme lassitude, loss of appetite, loss of flesh, and great mental depression. Indigestion and a stomach cough are also frequently comcomitants of this distressing state of body and of mind. The common remark in relation to persons in such a condition is, that the are consumptive. Now, what these unfortunates realy want is vigor, vital strength; and, as certainly as dawn succeeds darkness, they can recuperate their systems and regain perfect health by resorting to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. It is as clear that a life-reviving tonic is required in such cases, as that the dying flame of an empty lamp requires to be revived with a new supply of oil. Perfectly pure and innocuous containing nothing but the most genial vegetable extracts, and combining the three grand elements of a stomachic, an alterative, and a general invigorant. Hostetter's Bitters are suitable to all constitutions, and are as applicable to the diseases and disabilities of the feebler sex, as to those of men. apr16-d1w&w1t

READ!

It is well known to Doctors and to Ladies, that Women are subject to many diseases peculiar to their sex—such as Suppression of the Menses, Whites, Painful Monthly "Periods," Irregularities of the Back and Womb, irregular Menstruation, Hemorrhage, or Excessive "Flows," and Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb.

These diseases have seldom been treated successfully. The profession has sought diligently for some remedy that would enable them to treat these diseases with success.

At last that remedy has been discovered by one of the most skilful physicians in the State of Georgia. That remedy is

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.

It is purely vegetable, and is put up in Atlanta, Ga., by Bradfield & Co.

It will purify the blood and strengthen the system, relieve irritation of the kidneys, and is a perfect specific for all the above diseases, as a certain cure as quinine is in Chills and Fevers.

For a history of diseases and certificates of its wonderful cures, the reader is referred to the wrapper around each bottle.

Every bottle warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded.

LAGRANGE, Ga., March 23, 1870.

BRADFIELD & Co., Atlanta, Georgia:

DEAR SIRS: I take pleasure in stating that I have used, for the last twenty years, the medicine you are putting up, known as Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR, and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the diseases for which it is recommended. I have been familiar with the prescription, both as practioner of medicine and in domestic practice and can honestly say that I consider it a boon to suffering females, and can but hope every lady in the land, who may be suffering in any way peculiar to their sex, may be able to procure a bottle, that their sufferings may not only be relieved, but that they may be restored to health and strength.

With my kindest regards, I am, respectfully,
W. B. FERRELL, M. D.

We, the undersigned, Druggists, take pleasure in commending to the trade Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR—believing it to be a good and reliable remedy for the diseases for which he recommends it.

Dr. Prophitt's

Celebrated Liver Medicine.

It is purely vegetable, and will act upon the Liver and Kidneys as promptly as Calomel and Bocha, without any danger of salivation or destruction of the bones.

Parties taking this medicine need not fear getting wet, or any other reasonable exposure.

Symptoms of Liver Disease:

Headache, Dull Feeling or the Blues, Sour Stomach, Sick or Nervous Headache, Heartburn, Indigestion or Dyspepsia. Bad or Bitter Taste in the Mouth, the skin has a thick, rough feeling, and is darker than usual, Costiveness, Melancholy Feelings, Cramps, Cold Feet, Chills, Dysentery or Diarrhœa, Chills and Fever, and Piles. In fact, where the Liver is out of order, you are liable to every disease that is not contagious.

Prophitt's Liver Medicine, if taken properly, will prevent and cure any disease resulting from a deranged Liver.

It will regulate its functions and thus cure all diseases caused by the failure of its healthy action.

It has been used for a great number of years, and has given universal satisfaction.

There is no brother or son claiming to have the original receipt. It is put up in both Powder and Fluid form.

FAIRBURN, GA., September 4, 1868.

DR. O. S. PROPHITT:

SIR: My wife has been an invalid for fifteen years. Doctored all across she had "Liver Disease." In connection with their practice she used various noted remedies, none of which seemed to do any good. Something ago I presented a bottle of "Liver Medicine," of your agent here, C. A. Harvey, which being given according to directions, has effected a complete cure. GEO. L. THOMPSON.

ATLANTA, GA., July 18, 1870.

DR. BRADFIELD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN—Last year, during my travels in Alabama and southwest Georgia, I contracted chills and fever, and my general health became very bad. I tried various remedies, and among others Philosophers's Pills—all to no purpose. I was troubled with intense pain in the small of my back, and for months I did not have a miserable week. I had well nigh despaired of recovering when a friend recommended me to take Dr. Prophitt's Liver Medicine. I did so, and one bottle has cured me; and to-day I feel like another man. I consider it one of the best medicines for general use now put up, and, without any reservation, recommend it to the afflicted.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours, etc.,

TO MISS SALLIE M. BRYAN.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

Long thy mystic tones, dear Sallie,
Have been sounding through my brain
Like the distant voice of ocean,
In the pause of wind and rain;
And in the midnight's solemn musings,
And the haunted dreams of sleep,
Oft to thine my spirit answers,
As deep calleth unto deep.

I have dreamed thy soul a sea-shell,
From the upper deep sublime,
Cast by some unpitying billow
On this rocky shore of time,
Where its sweet and dirge-like breathings
Seem a low and mournful sigh—
A deep, ever restless pining
For its far home in the sky.

I have dreamed thy soul a wind-harp,
Of a weird and wondrous power,
Breathing out its strange, wild music,
In the twilight's wizard-hour,
Gently swept by gales of Eden,
(When the earth-wind's are fair'd),
And in mournful cadence telling
Of its own dear native world.

There's a realm within thy spirit,
Fill'd with grandeur and with gloom,
Where each tone is like a heart-wail,
And each earth-shell seems a tomb;
And the flowers—a somber tinting
Overspreads their ghastly forms,
As if nurtured by the droppings
But of passing thunder-storms.

While thy calm, angelic features
In severest beauty sleep,
Thy high thoughts, in vivid flashes,
On our startled vision leap—
'Tis as if the keen, red lightning
Should burst wildly from the fold
Of a soft, white cloud of mourning
Tinged with violet, blue and gold.

There's a tall plant of the tropics,
That, amid its bristling spears,
Puts forth one all beauteous blossom
With each score of passing years;
And our human race, dear minstrel,
Is a plant of kindred power—
Once in each score years it blossoms,
And thou art its glorious flower.

LONDON, April 19.—A dispatch from Versailles to-day says, the government troops occupied Asneeres yesterday, driving the enemy across the Seine and capturing some prisoners. The loss of the Versailles troops was small.

A battery has been placed in position which prevents the insurgents from using the bridge, which crosses the river from Clichy to Asneeres.

The insurgent troops were quiet, and their batteries silent during last night.

The following are the details of the fighting at Asneeres:

The Versaillists compelled the Communists to evacuate Asneeres, but the Communists re-occupied Asneeres in the afternoon. They were again attacked in the evening with a fierce fusilade. The Versaillists, with difficulty, held their position.

A Paris dispatch, dated Tuesday evening, says the Versaillists have not resumed the offensive.

The belligerents are separated by Island Grande Jatte.

The loss of the Communists yesterday, was very heavy.

It said that the Nationals are greatly discouraged by their sufferings and losses.

A special dispatch to the Standard says that the spirit of the Versaillists troops is unsatisfactory and even discipline is wanting. The Insurgents will probably evacuate Asneeres to-day. Some changes in the French ministry are reported.

The Versaillists have carried the woods of Colombes. The Communists are suffering fearfully in killed and prisoners.

Asneeres is now threatened on both sides.

Literary Chit-chat.

Dr. Henry Lonsdale has written an interesting book on "The Life and Writings of Robert Knox, the Anatomist," of whom he was a pupil and colleague.

The Latest Handbook published by the famous Murray is descriptive of the Eastern counties of England—Essex, Suffolk, Norfolk and Cambridgeshire.

Professor Robinson Ellis has translated "The Poems and Fragments of Catullus" into the metres of the original. He has made a sad failure of his work, the translation being abominably harsh and obscure.

Richard Grant White's book on "Words and Their Uses" is favorably reviewed in the "Saturday Review," which, however, calls attention to several instances in which the author himself misuses words.

Mr. Whipple's lectures, essays and reviews, published in book form under the title of "Success and its Conditions," have been received with much favor by critics and the public alike. They are undoubtedly very interesting.

In his translation of "Wallenstein's Camp," which is printed in parallel pages with the German text, Colonel Wirgman has essayed to do what Coleridge declared to be "incompatible with a faithful adherence to the sense of the German, from the comparative poverty of the English language in rhymes." The rhymes, says a critic, are good, and if the translation is not very poetical, it fairly reproduces some of Schiller's humor.

"A Woman's Poems," just issued by J. R Osgood & Co., is by Mrs. S. M. B. Platt, one of the Western poetesses of whom that rugged region has been singularly prolific of later years. Alice and Phœbe Cary and the authoress of this new volume hang like ideal evergreens about the rugged practicability of that less cultured section and charm the senses of the polished East, not to speak especially of exacting Boston, with their pleasant strains. There are some exquisite verses in the present volume, and most of them, like "Paris, January, 1871," and "Playing Beggar," are enhanced in interest by their reference to current events.

Mr. Froude's recent address to the students of St. Andrew's, at the close of his term of office as rector, has been published by Longmans, of London. It is on the subject of Calvinism, and takes so gloomy a view of the religious situation that the literary critics are protesting against its conclusions. If we understand Mr. Froud's argument, it is that all forms of religions finally decay and falsehood is substituted in their stead, and that it is to destroy these false teachings that new forms of religion appear. If it be true that "the work of one generation is to destroy the religious falsehoods of previous generations," of what avail is religion at all? far as the falsehoods destroyed are finally succeeded by other falsehoods we cannot see wherein humanity is benefitted by the change.

☞ Says the New York Tribune: "We suppose it is all right, though it seemed rather odd to read in the accounts of divine worship last Sunday at one of our city churches, that the orchestra of thirty pieces performed the overture to 'The Merry Wives of Windsor' and 'La Gazza Ladra,' besides the grand march from 'The Prophit,' and Sig Belloroso, the eminent basso, sang an aria from 'I Lombard' with fine effect. The service must have been highly impressive and devotional; but to be sure it is none of our business."

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 1.—I feel that we have now an article of gin suitable for such cases as that remedy is adapted to. DR. J. W. BRIGHT.

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, etc.

I take great pleasure in bearing highly ereditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of asimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant,
CARL A. LEAS, M. D., New York.

96 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov. 21, 1867—UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present: Dear Sir—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps," with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the "schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours, CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

CHEMICAL AND TECHNICAL LABORATORY, 18 EXCHANGE PLACE, New York, Nov. 20, 1867.—Udolpho Wolfe, Esq.: Dear Sir—The undersigned have carefully and thoroughly analyzed a sample of your "Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps," selected by ourselves, and have found the same free from all organic or injurious substances, more or less injurious to health. From the result of our examination, we consider the article one of superior quality, healthful as a beverage, and effectual in its medicinal qualities.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) ALEX. TRIPPEL, Chemist.
